

ABSTRACT

A three dimensional capacitor fabricated as part of a dual damascene process is disclosed. The capacitor structure comprises two barrier metal layers separated by a high k dielectric and is formed in all the via and trench openings. The upper barrier layer and dielectric is selectively removed from those openings which will have ordinary vias and conductors, the other opening remains as capacitor.